

Downloading and making your first call through App2Chat™

Upon opening your 'Google Play' Store...

- Search for 'App2Chat' and download (the app will appear as 'Ripdialer').
- When complete, open App2Chat™ and 'Agree' to all policies notification requests (microphone access/ phonebook etc).
- When prompted, choose the country your mobile phone is registered to and enter your mobile number, minus the first 0.
- You will shortly receive an SMS text message with a five digit code. Enter this in the place holder.
- If you do not receive an SMS message, please press the button below to request a free call with your pin code.
- Enter the home screen (the house on the bottom task bar) and press settings on the top left of the screen.
- Ensure 'Enabled' and 'Replicall' are green and 'Autodial' is off.
- Press the interlinking arrows button. This will refresh the application.
- Go back to the settings screen and press 'Replicall Numbers.' This will then show you your new landline number under your existing mobile number.
- You can now start making calls through App2Chat™.

NB: When pressing your 'Settings' button, you will see 'Toggle VoIP.' When VoIP is on, three traffic lights will appear in the top left hand corner of your screen. Please ensure VoIP is off when making GSM calls as this can compromise the quality of the call.

Making your first call through App2Chat™

- App2Chat™ works with your Android software, enabling you to make calls from the call button on the home screen of your phone. Choose a contact to call from your contacts list as normal.
- You will be presented with the choice to call them from either your mobile number or your new landline number(s).
- The number you choose will be the number the call recipient will see on their phone.
- When calling you will see a randomly generated number on your screen. This is App2Chat™ contacting our network. The call recipient will see the number you initially chose to call from.
